OHARA DAVIES-GAETANO INTERIORS

Ohara Davies-Gaetano Interiors provides comprehensive high-end residential interior design, from new construction, renovations and the re-imagination of existing spaces within the US and abroad.

Ohara embodies a natural and artful approach to design that captures and translates life's past and future moments. Growing up within a family of artists in New York City, Ohara began her study of art and design at a young age. Ohara continued to pursue her studies through extensive travel, observing and absorbing the world around her.

Now a resident of Laguna Beach, California, Ohara offers her clients a timeless, unique and personal design experience. Named by House Beautiful as the 'next wave' of design, Ohara carefully considers the individual needs of each client, and she develops personalised environments that have a vitality and life of their own.

Current work includes a six story ocean front villa in Laguna Beach, a six acre equestrian project in Rancho Santa Fe and a cliff-side Mulholland modern home with 360 degree views of Los Angeles. Recent projects include a 22,000 square foot estate overlooking the ocean in Southern California, the complete renovation of a vacation home in Sun Valley, Idaho and the renovation of an ocean front home on the island of Anguilla in the Caribbean.

Design Philosophy: expressive and curated interiors that meld genres of style from modern to classical.
